

GERMAN DEMAND ON RUSSIA TREATED WITH SCORN

Time for Reply Expires at Noon and Mobilization Begins

ST. PETERSBURG, August 1.—The German Emperor sent to the Russian Minister of Foreign Affairs a declaration of war.

Round Mountain to Enlarge Its Mill to 500 Tons a Day

The culmination of the long litigation between the Round Mountain Mining company and The Round Mountain Sphinx Mining company was happily terminated in Goldfield on Thursday, when the deeds passed to the former company from the Sphinx people for all their holdings in Round Mountain mining district and the reception by them in return of $20,000 in cash and 75,000 shares of the capital stock of the enlarged Round Mountain Mining company.

Each company held in the month of July special stockholders' meetings to ratify the agreement which was entered into a month ago between the parties. The efforts of Jim Robertson and Tom Lynch, of Tonopah, were successful in bringing the parties together and the former litigants met as friends in Jim Robertson's Tonopah office, which they used to hold their final meetings, which ended in the gratifying transaction referred to above.

Now that the prosperous camp of Round Mountain is relieved of the great contention which has hung as a pall over the place since this litigation started six years ago, mining in real and profitable earnest will be carried on by the big Round Mountain company.

Their own holdings comprise many claims through which several big gold bearing ledges run in several directions, all of which now can be worked without restriction. Heretofore much of the area was not available for mining, for the Sphinx company had injunctions which compelled the Round Mountain company to forbear in extracting ore in disputed territory.

It is known that, although the price paid for the Sphinx ground may seem large to the uninformed, the ore reserves are very extensive and the acquiring company will reap a large profit on its investment. The engineers are reported to be highly elated over the new territory and assure the stockholders of Round Mountain a handsome profit on their shares. The area of the big new company is the largest in the state for a gold mine. It is certain the mill will be enlarged to probably 500 tons a day from its present capacity of 100. The water to handle this increased tonnage will come from Pott canyon, about twelve miles distant. The contract for the laying of the pipe line from this newly acquired source has been let. The company has many valuable placer mines out of which many thousands of dollars in gold have been taken by leasers in the past few years and out of which much more money will be taken in the future. Dave Llewellyn is now operating on some of the Round Mountain's property on leasehold and his prosperity will be duplicated many times over by the company itself in the improved handling of the placer ground with the hydraulic methods in contemplation.

The vast resources of the Round Mountain Mining company will now be diverted into the channels of money making for its fortunate stockholders and not as heretofore to a large extent in fighting endless litigation. The Bonanza congratulates all parties concerned in the settlement and suggests that the prosperity of the camp of Round Mountain and the money making period of the holders of Round Mountain stock will date from the moment when contentious neighbors dropped their differences and united their interests for the common good of all.

The ore is coming from the 1,000 foot level of the Halifax, where some ore was taken out during October, 1913, in the course of development. Now the company is stopping, which Manager Brady considers a very good system of prospecting.

An aggressive policy will be pursued on the West End on the 422 foot crosscut on what is supposed to be the Friction vein. A stope has been finished about 450 feet southeast of the shaft where two machines have been installed, drifting each way, and two other machines raising until a blower can be installed.

The Goldfield way of stringing twenty or thirty animals to a six-room house and hiking across the desert at a snail's pace has been superseded by the swifter auto methods of Tonopah contractors.

This morning a six-room house was piled off its foundations on upper Belmont avenue, switched over to a low truck and then moved off in tow of one of Wittenberg's big fifty horse power Pierce-Arrow motor trucks and transferred to a new site four lots west of Knights of Columbus hall, where it was unloaded and packed up for a permanent lodgment shortly after noon.

The work was in charge of Contractor Kuhlman and the distance negotiated included some of the worst roads and curves in Tonopah, but the motor truck kept going without a halt until the rather steep hill at Brougher and St. Patrick brought the machine to a full stop. This delay was only temporary and, after allowing the truck to run ahead to the level on top of the hill, where a steel low line was paid out, the house resumed its onward journey.

Russia is asked to suspend mobilization within twelve hours. A demand was sent France that Germany requires France to inform Berlin within eighteen hours whether France will remain neutral in the event of war between Germany and Russia. The German ultimatum to Russia said if Russia did not stop mobilization today Germany will begin mobilization of her army.

PARIS, August 1.—An official decree today orders general mobilization of the French army, beginning tomorrow.

LONDON, August 1.—The censor drew a veil over what developments might have been the result of the German ultimatums to Russia and France, and the king's intercession with the emperor of Russia. At the same time news came from Rome that Italy had decided to remain neutral unless attacked.

ENTHUSIASTIC WAR MEETING HELD TO CONSIDER SENDING RECRUITS

The vicinity of the Serbian Young Men's hall at St. Patrick and Everett streets last night resounded with wild acclaim that echoed the war spirit manifested by the mass meeting of Serbians, Croations and Slavonians assembled for the purpose of taking united action on the call of the mother country to repel the invaders from Austria. Speeches were made by half a dozen leaders and all served to stir the gathering to a deeper patriotic sense. Every suggestion of going to the front was received with roars of approval and it did not require a vote to determine the sense of the meeting was to rally to the assistance of the Balkan states as soon as the first official call was received.

The meeting before adjourning adopted a resolution instructing the president to communicate with the consul general in New York to ascertain definitely what was expected from former subjects of the Balkan states. When this message is received another meeting will be called. In the meantime a finance committee consisting of M. R. Glogovos and Mike Kosick was appointed to canvass and report what money could be raised here towards sending a substantial complement to the front. The last draft on the patriots of Tonopah during the war of last winter took 45 men from Tonopah, each of whom paid his own fare to New York, where the consul looked after the ocean transportation. This contribution is said to have cost the boys from this camp about $15,000, which they cheerfully paid for the privilege of fighting for the fatherland.

The meeting elected the following officers: George Banovich, president; George Davidovich, secretary, and Mike Vukoslovich, treasurer.

PANSNER VERDICT REACHED BY JURY AFTER TWO HOURS

PENALTY IS FROM ONE YEAR TO TWO YEARS IN PRISON.

"Guilty of assault to do great bodily harm" was the verdict brought in last night by the jury in the Pansner case, after having spent two hours in deliberation. The penalty at the discretion of the court is not less than one year nor more than two years, or a fine of $1,000 to $5,000 or both the fine and the sentence. On the first ballot the jury stood 7 for acquittal and 5 for conviction, but on the ninth ballot reached a unanimous verdict.

The prompt response of the jury to the evidence was a signal victory for the state, as it was feared the jurors would not agree on the nature of the offence and might hang fire altogether.

The court decided to close the case last night after a short consultation with attorneys during the closing hours of the testimony, when it was realized the docket could be cleared at a slight discomfort and inconvenience. Accordingly court convened at 8 o'clock and it did not take long for counsel to submit their arguments. At 10:15 o'clock the jury retired and remained in session for two hours, when the verdict was reached. Sentence will be passed next Thursday unless there is a stay of proceedings. Pansner admitted to District Attorney Sanders that he was the national organizer of the I Won't Work. When Foreman John Sutton handed the verdict to Judge Averill he accompanied the act with a recommendation to mercy.

A patent has been granted for paddle wheels to be attached to row boats and operated by cranks.
